BORNSCHEIN

Cultivated dispute on digital topics

Digitalization

Bornschein

Strategy and digital expert Christoph Bornschein takes on the role of moderator and asks the invited experts about (mostly) digital topics. His own expertise means that the discussion does not remain superficial, but goes into depth and discusses topics in greater depth. This can certainly lead to a cultivated dispute. This friction generates insight and (hopefully) new ideas on the part of the audience. The tone is charming, but direct and to the point. Thinking is required.

LEBEN MIT AKTIEN

The WirtschaftsWoche podcast on the topic of wealth accumulation (living with stocks)

The renowned podcast (formerly "Aktien fürs Leben") by Horst von Buttlar, one of Germany's best-known business journalists and editor-in-chief of WirtschaftsWoche: every Wednesday, exciting questions relating to wealth accumulation are discussed here.

The format, which also appears as a column in WirtschaftsWoche, is aimed at a top target group, namely private investors interested in finance who already have experience on the stock market and save in ETFs and funds but would like to invest more specifically in individual shares from now on.

ALLES GESAGT?

The infinite ZEIT ONLINE interview podcast (everything said?)

Lifestyle &
Culture

This innovative interview format is now one of the top players among the numerous ZEIT ONLINE podcasts. About once a month, editor-in-chief Jochen Wegner and ZEITmagazin editor-in-chief Christoph Amend prepare hundreds of questions and sometimes games for guests from a wide variety of fields.

They are interviewed until they declare that "everything has been said". This means that the broadcasting time can sometimes be 10 minutes, sometimes several hours - here the guest is allowed to finish speaking.

More than half of the growing audience of "Alles gesagt?" are urban young professionals with a high level of education, and around half are intensive podcast listeners who listen to podcasts several times a day.

WHITE - GESTÄNDNIS EINES NEONAZIS

ZEIT ONLINE about insights into the life of a former neo-Nazi

Of course, our reporter had expected stories of violence when he asked Mike about his time as a neo-Nazi. But not to this extent.

Mike tells us that he beat people with baseball bats, kicked heads with boots, stabbed people with knives and riddled houses with automatic rifles. Shocked by the brutality, our reporter asks him: "What's the worst thing you've ever done to another person?"

He says: "I killed someone." Mike has never been convicted of this murder, he has never been caught. But now he's told our reporter about it, into a running tape recorder. He says: "Nobody knows about it but you." You can hear the whole story here - in nine episodes.
